The Context - IKS and Public Governance

Two key initiatives to implement the institutional changes envisioned under the leadership of Honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi :

- Surajya - Good Governance
- Mission Karmayogi - an initiative for the capacity-building of civil servants

Means for Change -

Policy rooted in India's rich and powerful tradition of good, sustainable governance.

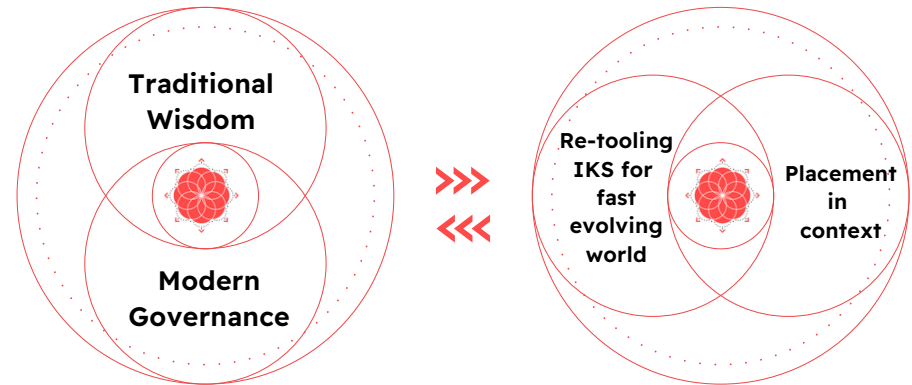

Vision at Brhat - Culture Guiding Policy

A focus on integrating IKS perspectives in public policy and public leadership to create an inclusive, sustainable, and culturally sensitive approach to governance in India.

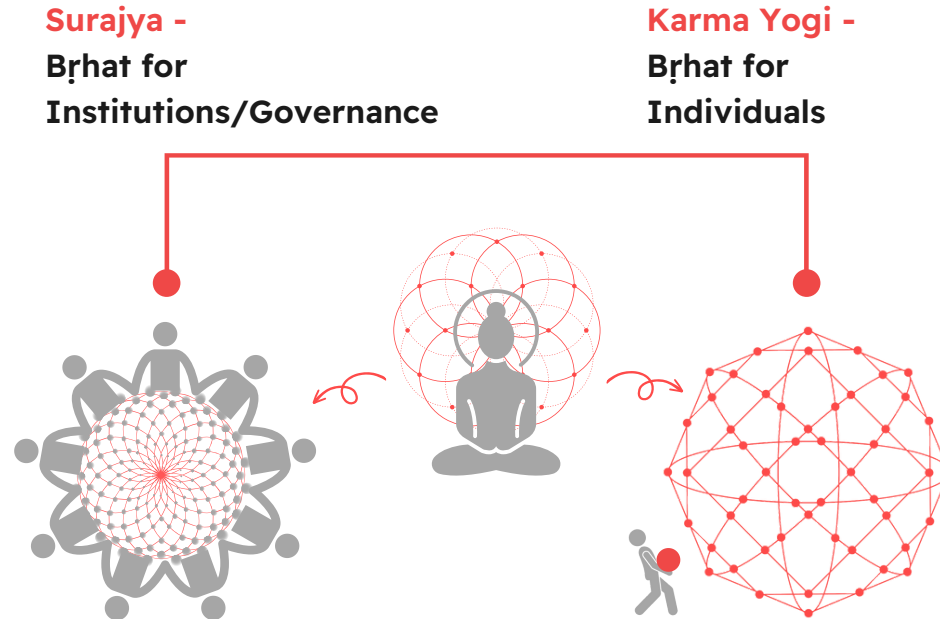

Make governance participative and accessible through changes at institutional (समष्टि “Samashti”) and individual (व्यष्टि “Vyashti”) levels.

Our Focus Areas

To create a sustainable and equitable governance paradigm, we aim to create and offer online/offline courses, workshops and content as an institution and in partnership with the IKS Division at MoE.

Enabling Surajya - Empathetic and Innovative Governance

Our Aim -

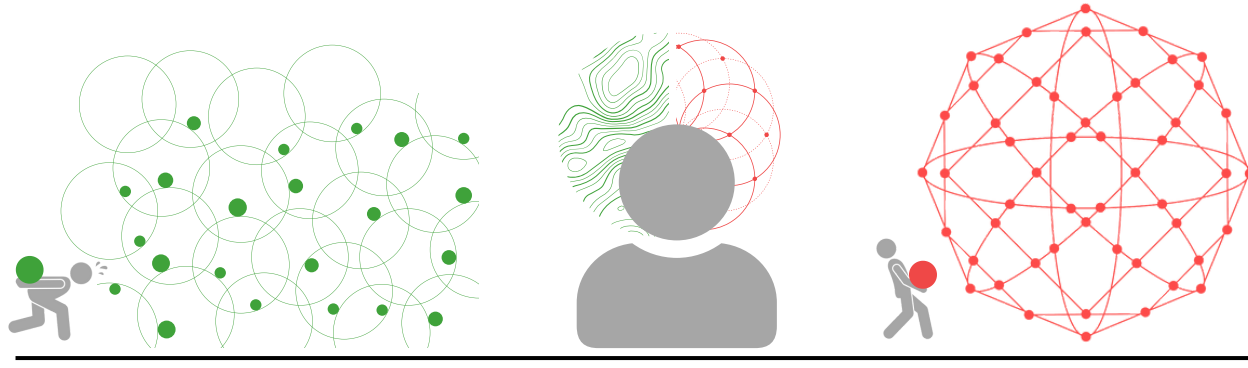

Provide the bureaucrats and policymakers with a powerful episteme and tools rooted in civilizational wisdom.

Our Offering -

A comprehensive course on Design Thinking for Excellence in Public Services taking you through the fundamental steps of Empathy, Define, Ideate, Prototype and Test from a civilizational perspective.

Why Design Thinking for Governance

- Facilitates efficient problem identification and resolution of policy problems
- Offers innovative and simple frameworks to address complexity in governance
- Puts citizens at the heart of governance initiatives
- Provides cost-effective solutions to challenges such as climate change, policy delivery, resource distribution, etc
- Connects the policymakers, service providers, and the citizens

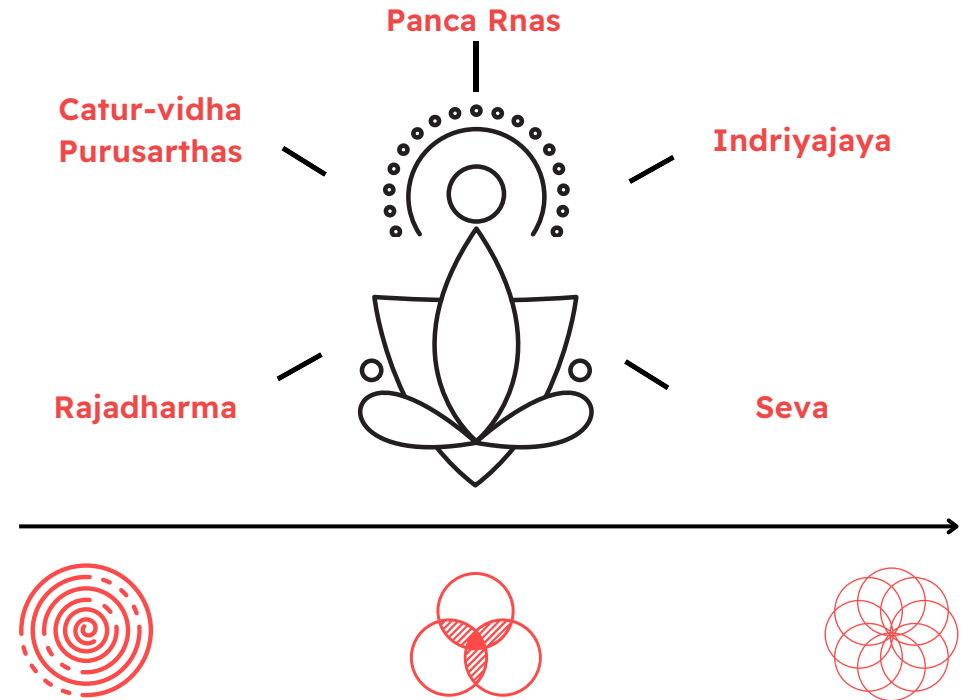

Enabling Surajya

The Civilizational Elements -

Goal -

To aid an empathetic and citizen-centric service for social cohesion and individual evolution based on ideas from IKS such as -

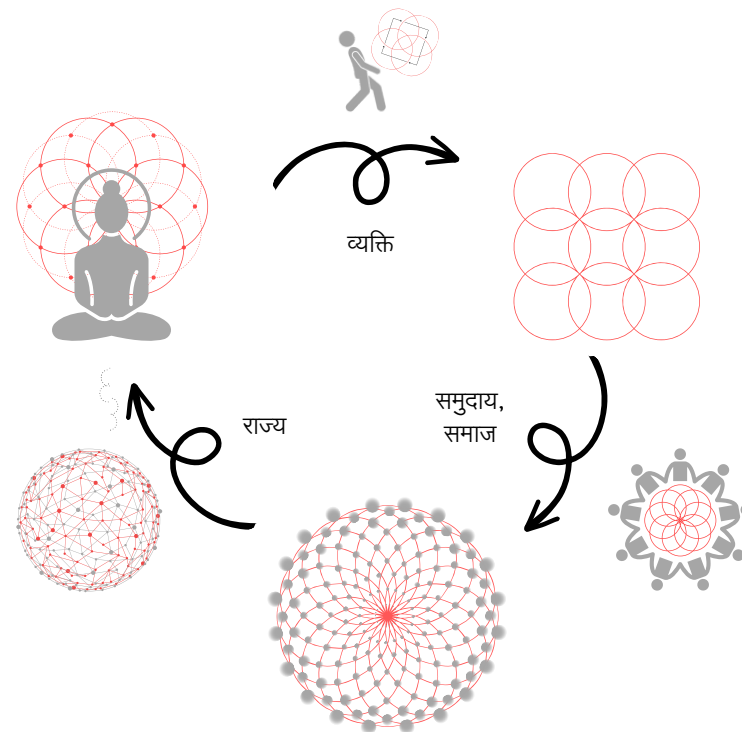

Creating Karma Yogis - Strengthening the Public Leader

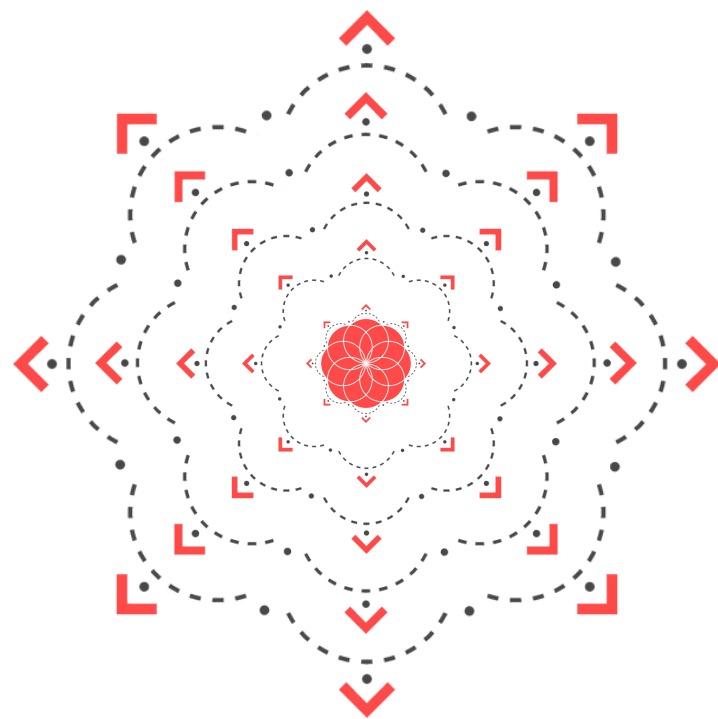

Our Aim -

Provide Indian bureaucrats with an immersive experience of civilizational values and IKS that can guide governance practices, self-evolution, and decision-making processes.

Our Offering - Nitividhana - A Course on Indic Public Leadership

- Examine major texts and thinkers from Eastern and Western epistemes of political philosophy
- The role of (व्यक्ति, समुदाय, समाज, एवं राज्य) in public policy and governance
- Develop a comprehensive understanding of Indian cultural heritage and its relevance to inclusive, equitable, and sustainable governance
- Move beyond theory to practice and make culturally sensitive decisions in governance roles
